In the story many people make mistakes. What is the worst mistake you have ever made? Relate your experience to the story.

During the period of growing up, parents, and to be honest everybody, tell us that making mistakes is actually good for us. Mistakes are useful for our development. But with time passing by we see that's not true. We feel anger and conviction of our mistakes from our environment.

Today I want to tell you about mistake that I made long time ago. My parents and friends didn't judge me, yet anyway I still blame myself. Also, I am very sorry because I wasted my time.

At the beginning of my study I wanted to spend summer somewhere abroad. Best opportunity was to go as nanny. I believed that I could take cake after children, learn foreign language and explore new city. I was delighted to see that agency that I've chosen was offering programs for France and Spain? Who could ask for more?

I payed for program and then prepared all papers and waited. Several months passed and I still didn't have any answer from agency. When I asked what was going on, they gave me some useless answer. I called them later again but nothing changed. Than one day woman from agency called me and explained that one family with two lovely girls has chosen me and that they were waiting me in Madrid. I was speechless. I couldn't believe that after waiting for months I'm going to Madrid. I packed my suitcase and waited departure, but the most exciting part just started. One evening woman form agency called me and explained that Spanish family wanted to call me. I accepted and had short and quite confusing conversation with them. Why was it confusing? Because they didn't have information that I will come to them in just several days. They couldn't tell me where to come because they planed vacation in Malaga. After that call they canceled my departure because they weren't satisfied with my Spanish. I have to note that agency told me that level of speaking Spanish wasn't exactly defined.

Agency found me other family somewhere on Tenerife island. But there was another problem. They said that I can go the following day, they even found me tickets but they couldn't find family and inform them before my departure. I was disappointed after everything and didn't want to make more mistakes. That's why I canceled everything. The following day I heard news that there was airplane church. That was the plane I had to be if I had made decision to go!

Although that was to be the best of my summer and ended like a complete disaster, I learnt useful lesson. I made several mistakes:

- I didn't choose trustful agency. I didn't found out anything about that agency before I've paid and enroll au pair program.
- I wasted few mounts and didn't do anything useful. I spend entire summer under stress.
- I wasted money.
- I trusted everything that people from agency have told me and didn't question them.

Despite everything I can say that this mistake was useful. I learnt important lesson the hard way but also, I become more careful.
